3. Getting started

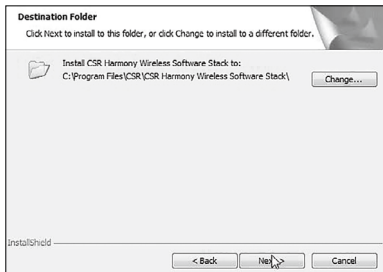

Please plug the Bluetooth stick into a free USB port of your computer. The system detects the USB Bluetooth stick due to “Plug and Play” automatically and installs all system drivers by itself. Then the basic functions of the device can already be used with the Bluetooth symbol in the task bar next to the system lock. If you wish to use the whole range of functions, please follow the instructions of the driver installation.

For this, insert the driver CD into your CD-ROM drive. After that, the automatic playback opens. Please click “autorun.exe” below to reach the installation menu.

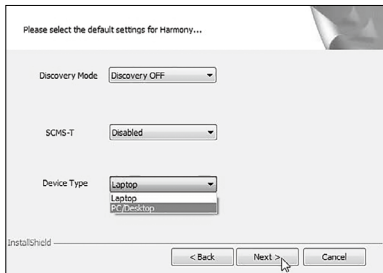

Answer the security question with “Yes” to confirm that you want to start the installation.

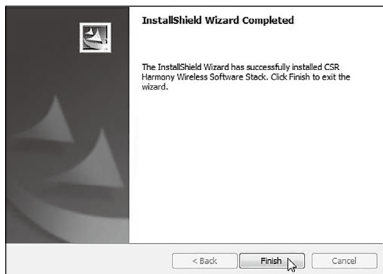

In the next window, select your desired language and click “OK” to confirm your choice. In the next dialog click the “Next” button. Now accept the licensing terms and click “Next” to proceed with the installation.

Check if the standard settings are suitable for your needs and continue with “Next”.
